

LIFESAVER BEHAVIOR COURSE

FACT SHEET

THE COMPANY

Ellipsis Behavior Laboratories is the world leader in behavior training. From interrogation and intelligence operations, to body language and people-reading.

Ellipsis develops new courses for the FBI, SOCOM and SPECWAR units and is the developer of The Behavioral Table of Elements for interrogation behavior analysis.

Ellipsis has been training agencies for over 9 years in behavior science, psychological and human intelligence operations.

CERTIFICATION

Students will receive a non-expiring certificate in Violent Behavior Recognition for their training files. If sailors transfer to SOCOM units, they will be required to renew annually for current certification (if in a deployment status)

WORLD CLASS

Training guaranteed to be the most advanced behavior skills course in the world. Based on cutting edge information, well-researched methods, and personal instruction with behavior expert and #1 bestselling author Chase Hughes.

FACILITIES

Your classroom should be equipped to handle the amount of students booked / scheduled for the class. Ellipsis can provide a classroom any time if needed.

A maximum of 30 students can attend per class.

A display system such as projector and screen needs to be available so that students can read from greatest distance in the training area. Ellipsis can provide these if needed.

THE TRAINING

The Lifesaver Behavior Course is a fully certified course designed to train sentries, tactical personnel, and VBSS members to recognize violent behavior before it becomes life-threatening.

Prediction DOES save lives. Having the upper hand in a tactical situation can be the difference between absolute failure, or certain success.

This course offers world-class training, wrapped into a 5-hour skills lab designed to teach lasting lessons and save lives. The course includes:

- Enhanced body language skills
- Violent behavior prediction
- Behavioral 'red flags'
- Lie detection
- Classroom demonstrations
- Behavior profiling skills course
- Tactical response to behavior cues

PREDICTION

Predicting violence before it happens enables operators and sailors to act first, and avoid violence.

ACTION WINS

Action beats reaction every time. The Lifesaver course has been proven to develop more awareness in watch standers and operations (VBSS) teams. This training is specifically designed with Navy units in mind.

Behavior recognition is a key element of survival for Naval personnel at home and abroad.
